Riot Follows Riot in Strike of Street Car Employes in Pennsylvania Town-Sympathizers Pay No Attention to Drawn and Threatening Revolvers of the Bluecoats, Chester, Pa., May 25.-Riot followed riot in the street car strike here to-night.

Mob violence was in force in all sections of the city, and no less than a dozen strike-breakers, who were in charge of the cars of the Chester Traction Company, fared badly at the hands of strike sympathizers.

At 10:30 o'clock a mob of 3,000 men charged a car at Seventh avenue. A force of police were in charge of the car, having a number of persons aboard, arrested for creating a disturbance at the car barns. There were a dozen bluecoats on the car, and each had a revolver in his

Following a shower of bricks, Sergt. Noden fired into the crowd, and his action was followed by more shots from the re volver of a colored policeman, but the shots did not frighten the mob.

Yell "Kill the Police!" There were yells of "Kill the police; shoot to kill; wreck the car." The crowd paid no attention to the officers until the city hall was reached. Here the car stopped and the officers alighted. Serg. Noden was the first one to make a move. He cried: "Get back! Get back, or I will shoot!"

The crowd turned. Women and children were trampled upon and a number injured. The people had apparently awaited the withdrawal of the State police to make an attack on the cars.

One car, at Third and Jeffrey streets is in a wrecked condition, and it is said that there is not a car in the barn which is in anything like good condition.
